To whom it may concern,

It is with great pleasure to provide this letter of support to Magnusmode and their solution, MagnusCards. Nadia Hamilton, Founder & CEO, is a wonderful advocate and is a true asset to the autism community. Autism Canada shares the same vision and mission to make a real difference for people living with autism and their families. Her company, inspired by her adult autistic brother, has developed a great, free, interactive, user friendly and useful tool for our mutual clients.

Autism Canada has just entered into a relationship with Magnusmode after watching the great work they have been doing for the past couple of years. We will be offering Nadia and her team an opportunity to share their tool, and the data they have collected, with our Provincial and Territorial Council this fall. She will also have opportunities to participate in events that we are planning across Canada.

We are impressed with what Nadia and her team have accomplished and encourage our community partners to learn more about the MagnusCards platform. Tools such as these have an important place in our community. They make a real difference in the lives of teens, young adults and families who often struggle due to a lack of supports and services. Autism Canada believes this product has real potential to empower people living with autism in key areas such as employment, education and daily independent living.
